Republican electors in the several States and Territories and voters without regard to past political affilia tions, who believe in Republican prin-ciples and endorse the Republican pol-licy, are cordially invited to unite under this call in the formation of a national ticket. Each State is entitled to four delegates at large and for each representative in Congress two delegates, and for each Congressional district, each Territory and the District of Columbia two delegates. The delegates at large will be chosen by popular State conventions called after not less than two two delegates are conventions called after not less than twenty days while notice and than twenty days public notice and not less than thirty days before the neeting of the National convention. Congressional district delegates will be Congressional district delegates will be Congressional committee of each district in the same manner as nominations of Congressmen are made; provided that in any Congressional district where there is no Republican Congressional district where there is no Republican Congressional district where there is no Republican Congressional district where the congressional district where the congressional district where the congressional district where the congression district where there is no Republican Congressman, owing to the redistricting of the State under the next Congressional apportionment, the Republican State Committee shall appoint from residents of such district a committee for the purpose of calling a district convention. Territorial delegates will be chosen deliberations of the same manner as normantions of deliberations. the same manner as nominations of del-gates in Congress are made. All such conventions shall choose alternates for each delegate. All notices of contests must be filed with the National Committee in writing, accompanied by a print d statement of the grounds of the contest, which shall be made public. Preference in the order of hearing and determining contests will be given by the convention in accordance with the dates of filing such patterns and states of filing such patterns. dates of filing such notices and state-ments with the National Committee.

The call is signed by Chairman Cl; rk-son and Secretary Fassett. An important step taken by the com-mittee was the reference to the Executive Committee, with full power to act, of all matters connected with the preparations for the next convention. The or all matters connected with the preparations for the next convention. The Executive Committee has decided to assume active direction of the matter itself and will make all arrangements. Channing F. Meek of Colorado was elected sergeant-at-arms of the next National Convention. In the afternoon the National Com-mittee settled the Utah fight by the adoption of a resolution recognizing the committee elected by the convention of delegates at Salt Lake September 2 as the Republican Territorial Central Committee of Utah; recommending all Republicans of Utah to bury their local differences and unite to receive the Teal lifferences and unite to rescue the Territory from the danger and dishonor of future Democratic control. Then followed a succinct statement from each member of the condition of the party in the various States. These were generally hopeful and were re-ceived with enthusiasm. Pinchback of Louisiana avaried the lameness of the reports by indulging in a fierce attack upon the white Republicans of the South, whom he held responsible for the lack of firility of the party in that section, and charged with suppressing the negro vote for fear of race issues. He held that their pusillanimous policy had resulted in untold losses to the party, and he maintained that a few vigor contests and manifestations of rightful ower by the Southern negroes would pave a wholesome political effect and redeem the Southern States from the Democracy.

At 7 o'clock the National Committee adjourned sine die.

The Executive Committee will meet soon to arrange for the convention.

the speakership contest. In his card Bynam says:

Inever pressed my candidacy and consented only to the use of my name until it became evident that the contest was marrowed down between Mills and Crisp. I shall heartily support Mills. While many candidates are strong tariff reformers, none so prominently represent the position of the party on this question as Mills. He is known to the people as a prominent figure in the House on this question, and his defeat would in a great measure be accepted as an abandonment of the issue. The tariff is the issue upon which we must win in 1892, and there should be no semblance or wavering or halting at this critical period. Unless the party stands firmly and agressively in favor of this issue, the farmers of the Northwest who gave us such sweeping victories in 1890 will become discouraged and may abandon hope of success through the organization of our party.

Serious Charges Against an ex-Office of a Corporation.

He is Alleged to Have Illegally Obtaine $3,000,000 Worth of Stock and to Have Attempted to Wreck the Concern.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—[By the Asso-ciated Press.] Wallace C. Andrews, president of the New York Steam Company, and until recently president of the Standard Gaslight Company, is likely to be involved in a law suit with the latter company over the validity of certain stock amounting to about $3,000,000, which, it is alleged, Andrews obtained illegally from the company while its president. He resigned two or three weeks ago, J. A. Bostwick being elected in his stead. It is said that had not Andrews resigned he would have been expelled. An injunction was issued to restrain him from selling or otherwise disposing him from selling or otherwise disposing of certain stock. It is charged that $1,000,000 of the stock of the gas company obtained by him is held by the New York Steam Company, which he is believed to control. Another action, it is said, has been instituted to recover a block of preferred stock held by him, and in this suit it is charged that he subordinated the interests of the gas company to those of his steam-heating company; the improductive properties of the latter company were unloaded on the gas company.

or the latter company were unloaded on the gas company.

Mr. Bostwick when seen today said that the company was in financial diffi-culties a short time ago, and to protect himself and others who had gone into it with him he offered to assume all debts of the company until its affairs were straightened out. Andrews, whose scheme had far out-reached his capital, had made contracts reached his capital, had made contracts he could not keep. As a result Bostwick paid out nearly half a million in thirty days. Much against his advice $5,000,000 of the stock was issued and given to Andrews. Spinola and Monheimer for distribution. Later it was discovered that much of this was sold for insufficient compensation and the remainder was held by the three persons mentioned above. This stock in its present state is tainted and the books for transfer have been closed unbooks for transfer have been closed un-til matters are straightened out.

Bostwick says the charge that An-drews transferred useless real estate from the steam company to the gas company is unfair. At the time of the transfer he unquestionably intended putting up gas plants on it. Andrews when seen today refused to talk.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—[By the Associated Press. | The report of the Board of Control of the World's Columbian Exposition Commission has been completed and will probably be presented to the President tomorow. Chairman Palmer refused to make public its contents. He thinks Congress will be disposed to appropriate the additional $5,000,000 which the fair managers think necessary to properly carry out the work be fore them.

It is believed President Harrison, in touching upon World's Fair matters in his annual message, will refer mainly to the condition of the work on buildings and the steps taken toward making the fair a success, not making any recommendations, but after he has had time to thoroughly examine the reports he will, if he thinks proper, send a special message to Congress on the subject.

Buckley and Samuel Rainey, who are now in Montreal and against whom indictments for bribery have been found by the San Francisco grand jury:

Dear Sir: Your letter of the 12th, together with the inclosed papers, was presented to me on Monday, November 16. I have devoted all the time at my disposal from then until now to this case. It is conceded by all that the crime charged is not enumerated in the treaty stipulations now in force between the two governments. There-fore, if this request be honored at all, it must be by comity. . . . After diligent search 1 am unable to find anything that convinces me that such a request has ever been made of any nation. Not-withstanding this, I have concluded to forward the papers to the Honorable Secretary of State for his action

It may not be improper for me to call your attention to the fact that the your attention to the fact that the record does not disclose any overt act on the part of these men, save that mentioned in the indictment. Should they be returned they could under the law only be tried upon this charge. The legal questions touching the validity of the grand jury are now pending before the Supreme Court and are undetermined. Should the grand jury which found this indictment be declared invalid them to request is proper. Should you and this indictment be declared invalid then no request is proper. Should you and the grand jury desire, I will withhold these papers for your further action, and in the event that you see fit to present other indictments or more evidence by way of affidavits touching upon the question of the importance of this case, they will be received and forwarded with the records now here. If there is nothing more to be added I warded with the records how here. In there is nothing more to be added I will transmit the same without further delay. Very truly,

The Witmer-Ellis Suit Resumed Before Judge Wade.

The Reverend Defendant Received Some More Lessons in Law.

His Case Not Materially Benefited by Yesterday's Testimony.

Slow Progress of the Cohn Will Contest The Abbott Burglary Trial-Five Divorce Sults Commenced—General Court Notes.

The trial of the cases of the Witmer Bros. Company and H. C. Witmer against J. W. Ellis et al. was resumed before Judge Wade in Department Three yesterday, and occupied his attention all day, and the defendant is beginning to realize the fact that trying a case before a synod of ecclesiastical judges and contesting a foreclosure suit in a court of justice are totally different matters.

H. C. Witmer was the first witness called yesterday morning, and after giving his testimony for the plaintiff he was recalled for the defendant.

His examination occupied the entire morning session, the defendant asking a number of questions, the bearing of which was apparent to him alone. During the morning session the witness testified to certain statements contained in a letter, which had been written by him relative to the settlement of the mortgage in controversy on the Ellis College property. The defendant de-manded the letter, but the witness did not have it with him, and the Court re-not have it with him, and the Court refused to stop the progress of the trial, while the witness hunted it up, and addressing the defendant said:

"You knew you wanted that letter, and you ought to have given this witness a notice to produce it, when, if it were not then produced, you might offer secondary evidence, but you can't demand the production of any document of a witness on the stand and insist upon it if he has not had notice."

The Doctor replied that the reason why he did not do this was that Mr. Witner, being one of his opponents, would upon his receiving notice to produce this letter, divine the purpose for which the Doctor intended to use it and would have been prepared to fortify which the Doctor intended to use It and would have been prepared to fortify himself against it.

The Court replied that that was the way cases were popularly supposed to to be tried, but it was not the way in the court of the

to be tried, but it was not the way in practice. There is a regular way of doing things in courts, and they must be done that way."

The defendant was again checked up by the Court when he sought to show that H. C. Witmer had offered to compromise with him, and had come to him so fortified with liens and judgments which were outstanding against him and which he had bought up so as to leave him (Ellis) nothing to do. He tried to introduce a letter from Mr. Witmer to a legal firm in Oakland in the line of presumption that there was fraud in Mr. Witmer's conduct upon that occasion. The Court, however, ruled that the fact that there was an offer of, or effort at, compromise precluded the idea of fraud.

During the afternoon session Jesse

During the afternoon session Jesse Yarnell, J. M. Witmer, W. G. Cochran and Miss A. V. Witmer were examined by the defendant, who did not appear to have any particular line of defense defined, in a loose and disjointed manner, and when court adjourned for the day the general opinion prevailed that the the general opinion prevailed that the defendant had not assisted his case in any material degree by his day's labor. The trial will be resumed this morn-

The trial of the contest over the es tate of Bernard Cohn, deceased, instituted by Delphina Varelas Cohn, on beunted by Delphina Varelas Cohn, on behalf of herself and five children, whom it is claimed Cohn legitfmized on December 28, 1885, by acknowledging them as his and marrying the contestant by contract, was resumed before Judge Clark yesterday in Department Two. During the day the following witnesses were examined for the contestant to prove the relationship which existed between Delphina and Cohn: P. Ballade, S. Celestin, E. W. Kinne, C. H. Schroder, G. H. Five such actions were commenced on Monday alone, the parties being W. W. Holcomb vs. Emma Holcomb; Jennie Burkle vs. Ferdinand Burkle; Annie Black vs. C. A. Black; Ella E. Hunt vs. W. M. Court Notes.
Judge Shaw yesterday rendered his decision in the case of C. A. Sawtelle against the Elsinore Land and Water Company, a suit to cancel stock, order ing finding and judgment for the plain-tiff therein as prayed for.

In Department Six yesterday Judge McKinley rendered his decision in the case of Mrs. Angelica Herman against Charles von der Kuhlen, a suit to recover money alleged to have been collected by defendant as plaintiff's agent, findings and judgment being ordered for the defendant.

The trial of the suit brought by D. C. Wilgus against the Germain Fruit Company, to recover damages for an alleged infringement of the patent issued to him for his lawn sprinkler, was concluded in the United States Circuit Court yesterday afternoon, the jury, after a deliberation of an hour's duration, returning a verdict for plaintiff, whose damages were assessed at $800. In Department Four, yesterday afternoon, Miss Jessie McCormic, a native of Illinois, 26 years of age, was, after examination by Drs. Powers and Wernigk, adjudged as, insane, and committed by Judge Van Dyke to Agnews Asylum. The unfortunate woman, who resided with her married sister. Mrs. T. E. Gove, at San Dimas, was afflicted with religious mania in February last, and since that time has gradually been getting worse, until, owing to her threats of suicide, it has become necessary to put her under restraint. She imagined that her sister and brother-in-law are eternally damned, and not only refused to eat with them, but stole out of the house at night and slept in an outhouse. In Department Five yesterday Judge Shaw was occupied in the trial of the case of James Monroe vs. James W. Foster, a suit to recover possession of a piece of land in the NE¼ of the NE¼ of sec. 16, T., 1N., R. 17 W.S.B.M., upon which it is alleged defendant entered into unlawful possession on November 23, 1889, and has ever since retained the same, to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $500 for rents and profits accrued therefrom, plaintiff having preëmpted the land as a homestead. Defendant denies each and every allegation made by plaintiff and claims the right of posthe land as a nomested. Defendant denies, each and every allegation made by plaintiff and claims the right of possession. The case was not concluded when court adjourned for the day, but will be this morning, in all probability.

But it won't do Mr. Gobbler any good, for this is the time when the gobbler is gobbled. This is the time when he pools his issues with the frolicsome mince pie and goes the way of all turkeys. This is the time when, however long he has lived, no longer shall he live; when the carver gets in his fine work, and when nothing but bones are left to tell the tale.

The Real Merit of our

Nothing now can prevent a sale except the needful $300, which is amount of first payment required. 150 acres sold since last report; 100 acres sold during the past week. AN OPEN LETTER! VERY IMPORTANT!

To Those Who Have Learned the Lesson in . .

GEOGRAPHY=

And all others interested, I wish to say a few words further regarding the East Whittler property. A good many have made inquiries, some have purchased, but we still have choice locations. Those who come first will get the choice. We expect many eastern people here to locate during the winter. There is no question as to the richness of the soil and the beauty of location, or to its adaptability to orange raising, and it is pronounced by experts the very choicest of lemon land. Lemons and Oranges are without question the wealth-producing fruits of Southern California, and the one who has ten acres or more in bearing orchards of these fruits has a fortune, not for today but for a lifetime, continually increasing; better than a settled annuity. The mesa land on the southern slope of the Puente Hills, from the Rincon Gap eastward, beautiful, rich, sheltered, warm in winter, cool in summer, is the garden spot of Los Angeles county and Southern California; Whittler and East Whittier the choicest of the choice. The magnificent East Whittier water system, with a capacity of 20,000,000 gals daily now carrying 5,000,000 gals, makes the future of this tract of land assured. The fountain artesian wells of the company have just been measured and show a variation of only 2 per cent from their flow when first open, establishing the permanency of the flow. For the present the price of the East Whittier tract is $200 per acre with water, and you get a clean title to both. The terms are liberal, one quarter down, balance in one, two and three years at 7 per cent. We do not sell to speculators, only to those who will improve, thus insuring the best class of people. The East Whittier tract is close to schools, both graded and frimary, and to the Whittier Academy, just opened with most promising outlook; best of teachers and good attendance. A DISPATCH from Dublin, Ireland, dated the 18th inst., gave information that the subscriptions to the National League fund during the preceding week amounted to only £2. In the palmy days of the league the dues averaged about £150. Before the death of Mr. Parnell the dues seldom fell below £25. Now they have dwindled to £2. The league must soon, from the nature of things, collapse. This shows how rapidly the Parnell faction is going to the wall.

Some men who were exploring a cave in Russian Turkestan found a passage which led to a subterranean city, with regularly laid out streets and squares, surrounded by houses two and three stories high. Effigies and inscriptions denoted an era over 2000 years old. Whether it was originally built below ground has not been figured out. But the probabilities are that it was built on the surface, and that it grew so old fogyish that it became silurian, like San Francisco, and allowed itself to be covered up and forgotten.

Gov. What is Agnosticism?

Los Argeles, Nov. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times.] Will you please inform me what is the meaning of the word agnostic? I failed to find it in the dictionary. By informing me you will oblige a reader and subscriber of The Times since 1883.

Amindan Sleek.

Mr. Sleek has probably confined his search to one of the older editions of the dictionaries. If he had looked into the Premium Encyclopedia and Gazetteer given out by The Times, which work is brought down to the most recent date, he would have found that agnostic is a word introduced into the English language by Prof. Huxley in 1869. The term was suggested to him by the inscription, Agnosto Theo, ("To an unknown God,") which the apostle Paul saw on an Athenian altar, as recorded in Acts xvii:23. It connotes the doctrine that man does not know anything about spiritual existences, whether divine or human, or about a future life.

In their reasoning against spiritual ism agnostics are careful to guard themselves against the charge of positive athelism on the one hand and of philosophical materialism on the other. They admit that there is more than the fine of the control o philosophical materialism on the other. They admit that there is more than matter and force in the universe. The phenomena of consciousness and menta activity cannot, they grant, be put in the same category with the properties of matter. With the former, they admit, physical science cannot deal. As regards the existence of a God, they say that, having regard to the universality of the law of causation, they cannot refuse to admit an eternal exist ence, and that, in view of the doctrine of the conservation of energy, they must also grant the pos sibility of an eternal energy. Owing to the reverence of agnostic for the law of causation, they repudiate the ascription to man of free will, as ordinarily understood. Agnosticism may be regarded as positivism without its dogmatism.

Robert G. Ingersoll is more of agnostic than an atheist. His creed, if he may be said to have a creed, is simply "I do not know." Most of the free thinkers of the day are properly classed as agnostics.

If we fail in the House of Lords we should still fight to persuade the electors of the mistakes they have committed. A LADY

Made the remark today that she was better waited upon and more real attention was shown her than she ever had before in this city. She only wanted to match a sample, but there was the same attention, the same care and endeavor to please the lady as if she was buying the finest dress pattern in the house. The lady took particular very largely increasing its trade? It is a solid, substantial increase. We are not quoting prices; we are not indulging in special sales; we are making no talk about selling goods cheaper than anyone else, and how would we know it if we did? We are giving better attention, keeping stocks better assorted, selling all goods at a moderate profit and saying nothing about any competitor or salesperson engaged in other houses. Take our dress goods department for an example. Sales more than doubled, the cloak department sales quadrupled, the corset department an increase of over 50 per cent., notions over 55 per cent. of an increase. There is the barometer that indicates the direction of the trade of this house. The salespeople of this house are earnest, honest workers. They work for the pay they receive and are loyal to the house and polite to the customers. Moderate profit on each and every article. No importuning tr buy. There is the whole story in a nutshell. This is the new plan since last January, and the sales are going higher and higher each month. If salespeople in other houses make no effort to match your sample, bring it here and let us show you the great atten-

Odd Fellows Lecture This Evening—New Gas Service—Social Events.

The Odd Fellows and Rebeccas are to have a treat this evening in the shape of a lecture by one of their members Mrs. Dr. Marion Stirling, late lady principal of Dufferin Medical College in British India, and now a resident of the East Side. Dr. Stirling was for some years in the employ of the British Indian government, as was also her husband, and for seven years was engaged in active missionary work. At the close of the lodge meeting this evening she is to give a talk descriptive of the home life of women in that country dealing near-indepted. of the home life of women in that country, dealing particularly with the pitifully secluded life behind the purdah, or veil of wedlock. The lecture will be accompanied by an exhibition of some very beautiful and highly interesting specimens of Indian art work, carvings in alabaster and household utensils.

At last, after much talk and several premature announcements, ground was yesterday broken on North Daly street and work commenced on the laying of the new gas main for service at the church, and as elsewhere needed above-

The Boys' Brigade will meet as usual tonight at the armory in the rear of the Presbyterian Church for regular drill practice, and also on this particular occasion to formally install and commission the new officers-elect.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Eastern Advertising Party-State Do-nations-General Notes.

The Board of Directors of the Cham-ber of Commerce met the representatives of the Chicago Graphic yesterday morning at the Chamber. There were present Messrs. Germain, Wells Hughes, Freeman, Forman. Toler, Mc Garvin and Davies of the Board and Truman G. Palmer, manager of the Graphic newspaper party, and Albert J. Graphic newspaper party, and Albert J. Bayliss, business manager. The gentlemen propose to get out a large and handsomely illustrated edition of the Graphic and they want the indorsement of the Chamber. The matter was discussed, it being regarded with favor by some of the members of the Board and was laid over till Friday, when it will again come up for consideration.

Mrs. Klokke on next Tuesday afternoon. 2, has been fixed as the date for the harbor meeting. It is probable that out of this meeting will grow some definite decision as to what will be done, and this will be embodied in the form of a memorial and got before Congress early in the session.

The Board of Supervisors of Orange county yesterday elected the following delegates to the Immigration Convention, which meets in this city December 8: Messrs. J. Yoch, M. J. Bundy and S. Armor.

Another Goleta pumpkin has come down to be exhibited. It is marked 280 pounds and is supposed to contain a pretty girl, like its predecessor of the fair.

THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE.

Not Enough Deputies to Attend to the Business.

In their desire to cut down the running expenses of the county govern-ment the Board of Supervisors have reduced the force of deputies in the Sher iff's office. There are but eleven depu ties, including the under sheriff, and as the business of this office has greatly increased in the past year it is almost impossible for the force to attend to the civil business, not to mention criminal matters, which are not touched.

As it is, the under sheriff, who has enough work to keep him in the office most of his time, is called on almost daily to go out and serve attachment papers. There are six departments of papers. There are six departments of the Superior Court, and as each depart-the Superior Court, and as each department requires the attendance of a deputy almost daily, these officers have no time for any other business.

This leaves only four deputies, and as two of these are book-keepers and are kept in the office from morning till night, they have no time to serve papers or do any outside work. One deputy is kept in the office all the while to attend to office work, and this leaves only one man for outside work and he to attend to office work, and this leaves only one man for outside work, and he is kept busy night and day serving civil papers. This is the state of affairs in the Sheriff's office at present, and in consequence the criminal business of the county, outside of the regular routine, has to look after itself

There are a number of horse-thieves and other criminals in this county "thist should be looked after, but they will never be placed in jail unless the Sheriff is given more help.

THE GREAT SILVERWARE SALE.

Fully 3000 People Attended the Opening

The great silverware sale inaugurated esterday by the Pacific Loan Company, at No. 215 South Broadway, seems to have stirred up an interest that is unhave stirred up an interest precedented in this part of the country. From the hour the doors were thrown open in the afternoon till 10 o'clock in the evening the handsome storeroom was thronged with eager buyers, and at times it was impossible for another one to get inside of the doors. In fact many went away without getting in at all. Inside all was excitement and many went away without getting in at all. Inside all was excitement and pleased surprise as one bargain after another came into view. Evidently the goods are of much finer quality than was generally expected, and this led to more buying than was probably ever seen at a similar sale in this city. Many people came out of curiosity, and bought article after article without expecting to. The stock is a tempting one to people who appreciate fine silverware, and the prices are really so low that it seems like missing the opportunity of a lifetime not to buy. The truth is, as many people know, this is a genuine sacrifice sale, and the intention of the Pacific Loan Co. is to make prices so low that the goods, to the last article, will sell at once. That is, they have undertaken to close out a $40,000 stock in fifteen days, and to accomplish a thing like that in these times low prices are very necessary. The crowd of buyers today will in the times low prices are very necessary. The crowd of buyers today will in all probability be larger than yesterday. THE SUPERVISORS.

A gentleman recently arrived from the

A gentleman recently arrived from the East, who is a wide-awake business man, in conversation yesterday with The Times reporter called attention among other things to the desirability of having more manufacturing establishments located here.

"It is all very well," he said, "to talk about the impossibility of making Pasadena a manufacturing instead of a residence center, chiefly on account of its proximity to Los Angeles. It is undisputed that a more desirable spot than this for a place of residence cannot be found, but while the present population numbers a great many people of wealth, who are by no means dependent upon their surroundings for support, there are many more who want to come here to live but who are kept away for lack of satisfactory means of livelihood. Everybody cannot engage in the fruit business.

who are kept away for lack of satisfactory means of livelihood. Everybody cannot engage in the fruit business, nor has everybody capital or inclination to run a store. In other words, there is little field here for the great mass of laboring people. Pasadena should seek to better herself in this respect so that her growth may not depend wholly upon the natural resources of the country and the people of wealth she may attracthere to live.

"My former home was in a town back East that a year ago was very dead. The neighboring towns kept growing and increasing in prosperity and it soon came to be a question of boom or burst with us. So we organized a land and improvement company. A large lot of land was purchased. Some of it was divided up into building lots, which were sold at a low figure, while the rest was reserved for manufactories. Then the company began negotiating at a lively rate to attract new industries in its direction. Propositions were read and submitted and, backed up by the citizens generally in offering generous inducements, three large establishments were soon led to locate there. This policy has been vigorously pursued during the past six months, and the once dead town is today as lively a place as one could hope to find.

"If the Pasadena Board of Trade should see fit to keep a lookout for foreign industries, with a view of getting them to move here, much good might result."

These slips are o be preserved during the ride and presented for inspection whenever demanded. And they are not infrequently demanded by the spotters who are em-ployed to keep a check upon the conductors. There is no secrecy about the spotter's work; he enters the car in full uniform, requests the passengers to show their receipts, writes down the conductor's number and the amount of fares collected and departs amid the un-complimentary remarks of the traveling public. The spotters seem to be equally despised wherever they ply their vocation.

Voluntary Testimonials

DR. WOH,

Southern California gives an account of the success of a factory recently started at Norfolk, Neb. The question has been raised here as to whether the culture of sugar beets can be made profitable unless the factory is close at hand. On this point Mr. Poulk says:

Farmers living about Creighton, Neb., raised beets, hauled them three miles in wagons to the railway station, where they were shipped forty miles to the sugar factory, the railroad, making a rate of $8 per carload, and the producers netted $75 per acre for their beets. As a consequence, there has been a decided rise in the value of real estate there, and a number of transfers have been made at double the land prices of last year. The Eminent Chinese Physician. bservation, study and investigation, as fully as lay in his power to perfect himself in all branches of the art of healing human sickness and disease. Born in China, of influential parents, of a family whose ancestors have been for generations deservingly renowned as leading physicians, Dr. Woh naturally followed in the footsteps of his fathers. In China he has practiced his profession for several years, being at one time a physician in the Imperial Hospital, and in America for a long time. His great number of patients, his wonderful and many cures, and the great list of letters from grateful and thankful patrons now prove him to be a remarkable and successful healer of sickness and all diseases.

For a long time I have been suffering with bladder and kidney troubles. No doctoring or medicines seemed to do me good. I consuited the best physician's and surgeons in Los Angeles city. They gave me morphine and drugs, but no relief could I obtain. After suffering great pain and having my passage almost entirely clogged. I fourteen days ago began using Dr. Woh's medicines. Today I am perfectly well. I do consider Dr. Woh the most successful physician in Southern California.
